

The Department of Modern & Classical Languages,
The Puerto Rican and Latino Studies Institute,
the Puerto Rican/Latin American Cultural Center,
and the Center for Latin American and Caribbean Studies

are proud to announce a

Reading in Spanish from Nuestra Señora de la Noche
By Author Mayra Santos-Febres

Wednesday, April 9, 2008

Time: 2:00 pm. - 3:30 pm.

Location: Puerto Rican Latin American Cultural Center, Student Union, 2110 Hillside Road, Storrs, CT
06269, Phone: 860-486-5027

AND

The Luis B. Eyzaguirre Memorial Lecture 2008

INVISIBLE TRACES: RACE IN PUERTO RICAN LITERARY DISCOURSES

Speaker: Mayra Santos-Febres

Time: Thursday, April 10, 3:00 pm. - 5:00 pm

Location: Student Union Theatre

Mayra Santos-Febres (Puerto Rico, 1966) received her doctoral degree in Arts and Letters from Cornell University. Currently, she teaches in the Departamento de Estudios Hispánicos at the Universidad de Puerto Rico-Río Piedras. Essayist, poet, novelist, and short story writer, she has won many awards for her work including the Prize Letras de Oro (1994) and the International Prize for Short Story Juan Rulfo (1996). Her work has been translated into German, English, French and Italian. Her books include: Nuestra Señora de la noche (novel), Sirena Selena vestida de pena (novel), Cualquier miércoles soy tuya (novel), Anamú y manigua (poetry), Boat People (poetry), Sobre piel y papel (essay).

Contact: Miguel.Gomes@uconn.edu